Cantu Watched By United States Officials

San Francisco—Belief that former Governor Estaban Cantu of Lower California intended to go to Canada to influence Mexicans living there to join in a revolution aimed at secession of Lower California from Mexico, became known recently, when Department of Justice operatives admitted that Cantu had been in this city three days, when he left for Los Angeles, presumably.

A secret message from the Department of Justice to the local department here carried the information that Cantu had left Los Angeles, where he had been residing for some time, and that he would stop in San Francisco en route to Canada.

U.C. HONOR CODE TO GO ON TRIAL IN LIBEL SUIT

Senior Contends He Merely Allowed Classmate to Copy From Paper.

Berkeley—The honor system of the University of California, established by the students nearly twenty years ago, will be placed on trial when the suit of Melvin V. Wood, senior student, against President David P. Barrows, filed in the Alameda County Superior Court Saturday, and in which damages of $20,000 are sought for alleged libel, is heard. The case has grown out of the suspension of Wood because of alleged cheating during an examination. Wood has set up the contention that he was not cheating, himself, but allowed another student to copy from his examination paper. He says that because he would not tell to the student affairs committee the identity of his classmate who actually cheated, that he himself was suspended, the reason for his suspension being that he cheated.

According to a rule of the honor system, in vogue since the system was introduced by the then president of the university, Benjamin Ide Wheeler, a student who protects another in some act of dishonesty is held equally responsible with the student protected. Wood contends that the system tends to make a spy of each student, but according to the honor system it is not only proper, but an act of good conduct, to report to the proper authorities every case of cheating or dishonesty that comes to the notice of a student.

Names of All Draft Evaders to Be Printed

Oakland—All deserters and draft evaders during the recent world war from the east bay cities will be listed and a verified list published in the newspapers by Inspector Fenton G. Thompson, head of the loyalty squad, following a communication received from Adjutant-General J. J. Borree, head of the California National Guard. Acting under instructions from the Adjutant-General in Washington, General Borree requested aid of the Oakland city council in rounding up those who evaded service during the war.

A large percentage of the draft evaders were employed in the different shipyards during the war, Inspector Thompson declared, many of whom were professional prize-fighters, while others were men of some social standing who evaded service by securing employment in the shipyards as mechanics when they knew nothing of that trade.

CAMPBELL GRANGERS HOLD SUCCESSFUL COUNTRY FAIR

The "Country Fair," the initial undertaking of its kind, conducted by Orchard City Grange on Friday night was a marked success in point of visitors, enthusiasm, displays and net results. The committees in charge were complimented at every turn on the remarkable arrangement of the various displays, booths and entertainment features.

The banquet room of the Odd Fellows building, where the show was held, contained the displays. There were antiques and modern pieces in needle work—some of the old-time pieces in excellent condition for their age. One pretty sampler in a tea tray shown by Mrs. Jas. Turner, some of Grandma Campbell's last needle work and several pretty quilts were very much admired by the strollers on the "strand."

A beautiful bank of choice chrysanthemums was tastily arranged as the center piece for the room, while all around the walls, hung among the green bowery background, were various pretty tapestries, dainty shawls, fancy crochet work and embroideries. On tables around the room were displays of nuts, fruit, fresh and dried, and vegetables, all of the prize winning qualities.

J. C. Ainsley had a most enticing display of choice canned fruits, neatly arranged by A. E. Brydon, G. E. Hyde Co. donated a choice variety of canned goods which were sold for the Grange.

The Prune and Apricot Association showed a very classy line of its packed fruit products.

The decorating committee in charge of Mrs. E. K. Clendening, is deserving of much praise. Those of the committee were, Messrs. and Mesdames E. K. Clendening, C. W. Sutter, F. S. Newcomb, H. G. Keesling, Geo. Whitney, J. F. Duncan, R. E. Dunphy, Robt. Parkhill and Mrs. Mary Palmer.

Mrs. D. H. Cramer and Mrs. J. E. Wiesendanger presided over two of the most popular spots in the whole fair, the candy booths, where some unexcelled home-made sweets were dispensed at popular prices.

The cry of the inner man was answered by the wail of the "hot-dog" vender in the horticultural building. Doughnuts and coffee also found a ready sale. The cooked food was all sold so early in the evening that late comers didn't even get a look in.

The food dispensary was presided over by Mrs. W. R. Coulter and Mrs. A. S. Cooley.

Among the relics of interest were, a Swedish wooden brace, made in 1783 belonging to J. L. Hagelin and several Chinese curios belonging to Mr. Parkhill.

In the main hall dancing held quite an attendance of spectators and performers. Circus lemo and the ever-popular nigger babies also held forth here.

On the second floor the gypsy fortune tellers, Misses Mary Fablinger and Olga Evans and Mrs. Ben Dalvit reaped a goodly harvest from the unsuspecting youth who needed guidance in the future or was curious as to his life's work. Their costumes were most gorgeous and their tent very inviting.

The fish pond was too popular to last, the fish soon becoming extinct, owing to the avaricious Isaac Waltons who flocked to the pond.

The lodge room was made into a vaudeville house and was packed to the doors and the S. R. O. sign hung out long before the curtain rose. The first number was a solo by Miss Marion Duncan, accompanied by Mrs. Geo. Whitney, followed by our local crayon artist, E. E. Lanphear, who "spied" a monolog while working his stunt.

A pantomime by Miss Dirks, Messrs. H. E. Brandenburg, W. T. Hobson, H. Hutton and F. E. Mitchell created much merriment, while M. E. Purmort with the world's trick dog displayed the wonderful intelligence of our canine pet.

The belle of the hour was Rober-ta S. Scholz-ia, the modern danseuse who, gowned in a beautiful creation of filmy drapery, tripped the most dainty steps of the American stage.

The animal show was a popular as the circus monkey cage. The monkey was there, two kinds to be exact, American and anti-American Manx cat, ant-bear and the swaying horse, all novelties.

The Grange realized the sum of about $125, which will be put into the Grange building fund.

THREE BIG NATIONS REPORTED IN PACT AGAINST MEXICO

Washington Denies Treaty to Force Revolution Damage Claims.

Mexico City—Intimations that the United States, France and Great Britain have concluded a treaty against Mexico are contained in Washington dispatches to the presidential offices here. It is believed this treaty may possibly be connected with an agreement relative to the collection of damages amounting to $20,000,000, resulting from revolutions here.

Washington—The American, British and French governments have had some correspondence regarding Mexico and the numerous claims of their citizens resulting from the ten years of revolution in Mexico, but State Department officials deny that any treaty against Mexico has been negotiated. Reports that such a treaty had been entered into originated in Berlin and were attributed to a high official of the German government.

Extra Clothes Confiscated by Soviet Orders

Washington—One pair of shoes and one suit of clothes for each person is the maximum to be allowed by the Soviet government in Petrograd, according to plans reported to the State Department today through official channels in Finland. The scheme was said to be one of the measures to be adopted to obtain supplies for the red army.

Night searches of the dwellings of officers and their families began September 30, surplus clothes, food and other supplies being confiscated, the report said. Workmen insisted that homes of officers and commissars be searched before supplies of the civilian population were touched.

Not only are wooden houses being demolished to meet the fuel shortage, but small stone structures are being razed to obtain the wooden frames. It is said that a cord of wood costs 35,000 rubles.

CAMPBELL CLUB STUDIES PLAYS

The Country Woman's club enjoyed another pleasant and instructive program Monday afternoon.

Mrs. E. I. Price gave a most interesting and humorous talk on "Characteristics of Great Plays." She quoted from Sir John Irving the great dramatic critic of England, who says that Americans are much greater readers than the English but are not the critical readers, and the same with the drama. We go so continuously that we do not take time to think critically of what we see. She named a few of what she considered great plays, as containing the features which to her made them great, which are not by any means all those that are highly praised by press agents, "the greatest liars on earth."

Mrs. Warren Shelly gave a short history of the life of Augustus Thomas, considered by many as America's greatest playwright. Since 1887 he has given himself exclusively to the writing of plays and has produced forty-six. One of these, "The Witching Hour," was first played a number of years ago in Rhode Island and introduced what may be known as the era of psychic plays.

A very comprehensive review of the play was then given by Mrs. Shelly, which was followed by a discussion of that and other great plays.

The December 20 meeting will be a musical at the home of Mrs. Alison, with Mrs. D. H. Cramer, Mrs. Ralph Hyde, Mrs. R. G. Archibald and Mrs. Ida Thomas as the committee.

RESOLUTIONS

Realizing its great loss in the passing of its member and vice president, Mary S. Lewis, the Campbell Improvement Club wishes to give expression of its deep regret.

In the death of Miss Lewis the club has lost a most enthusiastic worker and regular attendant of all its meetings.

Her warm sympathy and strong personality will be missed by each active member and her keen insight, splendid judgment and willingness for prompt, action will be the loss of the society as an organization.

It is hoped that the memory of this splendid life will be an incentive to the future membership of the club for greater endeavor in the uplift and advancement of our community.

CAMPBELL IS GROWING, and growing steadily, both in population and popularity. There are various reasons for this substantial growth. Among them might be mentioned in passing, the excellence of our schools, the quality of our water, the pleasant surroundings and occupations, and last, but second to none, the quality and standards of the present population and business men.

One of the most potent proofs of our growth and popularity is the remarkable growth of the new Growers National Bank as evidenced by the statement published this week. And this growth has not been to the injury or detriment of our other older bank, whose growth has been just as marked. The deposits of the Growers National Bank were about $37,000 in February of this year, shortly after opening its doors; on November 15 they were over $121,000. Such a growth should be a source of pride to all. Another evidence of growth is the fact that our town, which last year contained several vacant houses, today hasn't one, and a number of new ones have been built during the year.

WE WANT TO KNOW:

WHAT right has San Francisco, with her big police force, to dump her hordes of criminals and hell-fiends, bred and developed in her own dives, on her smaller and more respectable and less policed neighbors?

WHY does bread and other bakery goods still stay up when flour has been down for so long?

WHEN are you going to do your bit to make this a bigger and better town to live in?

WHO is going to be the loser when the town pump goes dry? Shall we let our water supply be diverted to the Coyote water shed?

The Campbell High School P. T. A. will meet Tuesday, December 14, the second Tuesday of the month.

Kenneth D. Priestly, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Priestly of Hamilton avenue was married recently to Miss Nordeen Chilton of San Jose. They will make their home at Fresno for the present where Mr. Priestly is employed in a garage.

W. T. Alexander has recently installed the new Torrey oil burner in his stoves. This burner is made in two sizes, for heaters and cook stoves. It burns kerosene with a noiseless flame that can be regulated by the least turn. A child can light it and beside being economical it is clean, making no soot. Mr. Alexander will be pleased to show it to anyone.

Tale-Telling Tails.

There is only one insect which enjoys the luxury of a tail, and it is to be found in the northeast of Tasmania. This insect is a pale greenish-brown in color, and its body when full grown is just about the size of a sunflower seed. In times of peace the tail—which is three-eighths to a quarter of an inch in length—lies placid and straight, but when on the warpath it is drawn up into an angry, vertical position. The mosquito is its favorite diet. Its domestic life is a villainous one, for when old enough to assert its independence it devours its parents and takes full possession of the parental web.

HAVE A HOBBY

In his excellent book, "Nerve Control and How to Gain It," Dr. H. Addington Bruce says that to keep well, cheerful, happy and sweet-tempered; to be a comfort to one's self, and a joy to one's friends; briefly, to be an exemplary citizen, everybody should have a hobby. If that be true of people in the world at large, it must be equally so of folk in and about Campbell.

As a hobby, then, consider that most practical exercise of all, the cultivation of the savings account habit. It is a game that any one can play, for the rules are simple. It wastes no time. It cultivates the will. As a form of personal indulgence, it is the only case where you can eat your cake, and have it too. It increases your self-respect. It enlarges you in the esteem of others.

And in addition to all this solid pleasure, and this enhancement of the personal qualities, you have something to show for every time you have ridden your hobby—you have a tidy sum quietly at work drawing interest for you. Yes, a savings account is a splendid hobby!

GOOD CHEER

Now that the long winter evenings are here, it's time to make merry; time to wipe the dust off the corn-popper, polish up the nutcrackers, sharpen the fruit knives, call in a neighbor or two and start things humming.

Popcorn is cheaper—only 10c. a pound.
Walnuts are lower—only 25c. a pound.
Big, meaty Brazil nuts are 40c.

And raw Peanuts!—you can buy them ready-shelled for the trifling of 15c. a pound. Salted peanuts—roasted and salted at home in your oven—are inexpensive and delicious. Only 15c.—it's amazing!

Apples are not as cheap as they might be, but they are a sociable kind of fruit. When there's a rosy apple in one hand, a keen knife in the other, a broad peeling curling down, smiles come easily and wit flows freely. Here are Pearmain, at 30c. a dozen; Spitzenburgs at 40c., Hoovers at 10c. a pound, and Pippins at 6c.

Oranges are tumbling—
White Figs in bulk—only 17½c.

COMMUNITY CHRISTMAS TREE PLANNED

The Home and School Club enjoyed a very interesting afternoon Tuesday. The girls of the 7th and 8th grades sang several songs and the 8th grade girls one alone.

Mrs. T. F. Sourisseau spoke of the food sale which will be held tomorrow, from 2 to 5 o'clock, (Dec. 11) at the Meat Market. Contributions will be greatly appreciated and may be left at the Market Saturday morning, if desired. It was decided to have a Christmas tree again this year, as the one last year was so successful. This time, however, it will be part of the school's Christmas entertainment on the afternoon of Friday, the 17th, when the school closes for the Christmas vacation.

A prize of a pretty vase had been offered the room having the greatest percentage of mothers present and it went to Miss Burgess who has the 4th and 5th grades.

The various P. T. A. clubs of the district are keeping a cookie jar filled at the Base Hospital at Palo Alto where there are still many soldiers. The week beginning Feb. 26 is Campbell's turn and all the cooks of the community are asked to be planning to help out on that occasion.

The club members were very sorry to receive the resignation of Mrs. W. C. Bohnett as president, but consider that they were very fortunate in the acceptance of Mrs. Clara Baldwin. Mrs. Baldwin has made a very good president of other organizations and will undoubtedly conduct the affairs of this as successfully.

Tea and cakes were served during the social hour, which is practically the only opportunity that some of the mothers have of becoming acquainted with each other.

HIGH P T A RECEPTION

On the evening of Wednesday, Dec. 15, the Parent Teachers' association of the Campbell High school is going to hold its first reception for the teachers and parents of high school students. The reception is to be held at 7:30 o'clock at the I. O. O. F. hall in Campbell, and it is hoped that all the parents of the high school boys and girls will come and spend an enjoyable evening in meeting and becoming better acquainted with each other and with the teachers of the school.

A program has been arranged for the occasion as follows:
Instrumental trio—Josef Halamick, Jan Kalas, Mrs. L. J. Carboni.

Popular songs—Campbell Glee Club. Mrs. G. S. Robson, accompanist.

Vocal solo—Miss Helen Kalas.
Reading—Mrs. H. C. Smith.
Vocal solo—L. J. Carboni.
Address—L. J. Carboni.

Address—State Pres. P. T. A. and Congress of Mothers—Mrs. Harry Ewing, San Jose.

CAMPBELL FIREMEN TO MOVE HOUSE

The regular meeting of Campbell volunteer fire department was held Monday evening at the hose house.

Plans were made for moving the fire house from where it now is to the new lot on Campbell avenue, recently purchased of J. S. Fay by the commissioners.

Commissioner Lanphear stated that the same material could be used and by remodeling the new building would have a frontage of 26 feet, leaving a ten foot driveway.

It was unanimously voted that all property owners residing in the fire district be invited to attend the next or any future meetings with the view of becoming members of the department.

The meetings are held the first Monday in the month at the hose house.

The Fruit Growers of California, Inc., will hold at the Campbell I. O. O. F. hall this evening a meeting of growers to discuss the green fruit situation.

Harry Leonard while on his bike on Santa Clara road Monday evening was hit by a motorcyclist and left unconscious in the road. Mrs. Mitchell brought the boy to Dr. Merrill who took him to the county hospital. Later the boy's bike was stolen but recovered. The boy was returned home and is on the mend from his shock. The offender has not been dealt with yet tho located.

Prof. C. E. York is in attendance at the joint conference of vocational agriculture teachers and agricultural club leaders of the coast counties in session at Carmel today and tomorrow. The meeting will be in charge of the State Supt. of Agricultural Instruction J. B. Lillard of Sacramento and Prof. K. A. Ryerson, assistant leader of clubs. Mr. York will have a paper on "The Size of Agricultural Projects in High Schools."

Campbell-San Tomas school has again been honored and this time in a way that means a great deal to the pupils, too. The County Board of Education has placed this school again upon the accredited list, which means that its pupils graduate without being required to take the county examinations. As the principal, Mr. R. Rodriguez, has only been in the county a part of the time usually required before a school can be stated or reinstated on this list, this action of the board is very complimentary to Mr. Rodriguez and his work in our school.

Central European Children Naked and Starving, Report

Mothers Eager for Children to Die

Mothers begging for death to relieve their children's suffering was the most tragic thing seen by Leo Wolfson, New York attorney and journalist, in seven weeks spent in eastern Europe. Mr. Wolfson, who has just returned to New York, made the trip in order to study political conditions in those countries.

"There are 1,500,000 people in this section of eastern Europe who are in immediate want," declared Mr. Wolfson. "In every town I visited I saw starving, naked children stretching out their hands to passersby for a piece of bread."

"They hardly look like human beings. All one sees are living skeletons, covered with yellow skin. The children are small, worn out, frightened, little creatures, who just drag themselves aimlessly around."

"How they will live through this no one knows. No one can begin to describe this picture of misery and want. But one can get an idea of it, knowing that mothers are actually praying that death take their children, to relieve their terrible suffering."

THE NEW HALF DOLLAR

The United States treasury department has issued three hundred thousand Pilgrim half-dollar coins.

On one side of the coin appears the figure of a Pilgrim with the words "Pilgrim Half Dollar," while the "Mayflower" sails upon the opposite side over the words "Pilgrim Tercentenary Celebration 1620-1920," which last explains the reason for the Plymouth Rock period of decoration. The Pilgrim Tercentenary commission of Massachusetts originated the designs for the new coins in further celebration of the three hundredth anniversary of the landing of the Pilgrim Fathers.

So accustomed are we to the "Lady" and the "Eagle" that even their different postures on the half-dollar denominations of 1919 and 1920 seem peculiar to most of us, and it may be upon meeting with one of these special pieces of "Pilgrim" money that we will believe ourselves to have been "nicked" into the possession of Mexican silver. However, closer examination will soon dispel all doubts; for so far as known the type of pilgrim depicted is exclusively connected with the New England states and cannot be in any way identified with our border neighbors.

Moreover, Mexico is making its history in long trousers, a fashion which our Pilgrim Fathers never recognized, and between the broad-brimmed headgear of the vaquero and that of the early New England settlers, the puritanical cut of the latter's hats as well as other wearing apparel cannot fail to be distinguished. Then there is always the other side of the coin to be considered should puzzlement persist. That will at once dispel all doubts, for there is but one good ship "Mayflower"—that which made its eventful trip three hundred years ago, and which in spite of the submarines came gallantly into port under full sail.

Of course, the new issue is limited, and it will not be everyone who will look upon either "Pilgrim" or "Mayflower." In all probability those who do will at once make a pocket-piece of the distinctive coin or else place it with other trinkets in safekeeping as curio or memento.

Thus the issue will be further depleted and its circulation subtracted from as single coins are retained by the hands into which they pass.

CURIOUS FACTS

A grasshopper can spring more than two hundred times its own length.

There are twenty-three acres of land to every inhabitant of the globe.

A quantity of water equivalent to 1 per cent of the ocean would cover all the land areas of the globe to a depth of 290 feet (U. S. Geological Survey).

The first printing press in America was established in Cambridge, Mass., in 1639.

Of the fifty-one thousand breweries estimated to be in the world, twenty-three thousand are in Germany.

A nail-making machine produces as many nails in a given time as were formerly produced by one thousand men.

The heaviest bell in the world is that at Moscow, Russia, which weighs 432,000 pounds.

In the seventeenth century the average duration of life was only thirteen years; in the eighteenth, twenty; in this century it is thirty-six. Look out for the twentieth!

A new electrical invention by Dr. Alexander enables a wireless operator to shut off all messages except the one he is receiving. This avoids interfering and saves time.

Mail service between San Francisco and New York is a fact, and no fuss is made about it—we just accept it as a matter of course. Yet it is a greater event than the completion of the transcontinental railroad fifty years ago, which caused the whole country to go wild with enthusiasm and to "celebrate" for nearly a month.

TWO DOGS

One wears a dainty collar
And a fine engraved crest,
And cuddles in milady's lap
In uninterrupted rest.

The other's life is quite apart—
That's Tommy's little cur—
He struts it with the kiddies' gang,
A gay philosopher.

Of course I've never been a dog,
And can't tell which is best;
But if I were a dog, you bet,
I'd never wear a crest.

I'd rather rough it with the gang,
And have a lot of fun;
No woman's lap would I prefer
When Tommy gets his gun.

Yes, this before but I wish to Meet happiness comes mostly in getting things.

DESPONDENT PONY SEEKS DEATH IN LAKE

"Babe" Hart Despairs of Future
Happiness, but Will Start
Life Anew.

"One more unfortunate,
Weary of breath,
Rashly importunate,
Gone—"

Well, not quite gone. The coast guard interfered. Otherwise, Babe Hart, would have drowned himself and escaped the troubles of this wicked world.

Troubles? Say, count 'em: Sugar lumps off the market. Carrots out of sight. George and Freddy getting heavier every day.

Oats—
But why go further? The troubles already enumerated would cast down younger and more optimistic ponies than Babe Hart, pet and slave of fifteen-year-old George Hart and his twelve-year-old brother Freddy of Milwaukee. Upon Babe, who is getting along in years, they had a dismal influence. Babe resolved to die.

His chance came when Freddy unhitched him beside the lake shore after a long, hot drive. Babe jerked the halter rope out of his young master's hand, leaped to the water's edge and jumped in. The deed was done.

He had gone down a second time, when a coast guard came to the rescue. Babe is back in the Hart stable, bedded in comfortable straw, with sugar lumps and carrots at his disposal. Freddy and George wait on him constantly, and he has promised never to do it again.

But there is a bolshevik glitter in Babe's eyes. He has learned how to tame his masters, and when the sugar lumps cease to appear and the boys want to go riding again, Babe will know what to do.

LITTLE GIRL TRAPS ANNOYER

Elderly Man Offers Pie to the Wrong Girl.

The next time Frank Billings, sixty-one years old, has a piece of pie to give away, he will be a little more careful regarding the person to whom he offers it.

Sunday afternoon Kathryn, nine-year-old daughter of a Detroit detective sergeant, was standing at a street corner waiting for her aunt and uncle when an elderly man walked up to her and asked her whether she wanted a piece of pie.

She refused, but he asked her to come into a vacant house near the corner and he would give her some pie. She had been told by her father not to go with any stranger, so she ran home and told her father about the man. The sergeant walked up to the corner, failed to see any one and was about to board a street car when he noticed some weeds moving. He walked over to investigate and found Billings hiding.

He placed the man under arrest and upon investigation found he has a record for burglary and is on parole from Jackson (Mich.) prison.

GETS SIXTY RED NECKTIES

Indiana Man's Taste in Cravats Remembered on Birthday.

Joseph W. Davis of Wabash, Ind., celebrated his sixty-fifth birthday and received as presents 60 bright red neckties, one for each year that he has been old enough to wear a necktie. Davis says he was five years old when he wore his first necktie and it was a red one. Since then he has never been known to wear any other color necktie than a bright red. For the last ten years he has received on an average of twenty red ties each Christmas.

HIS DIGNITY WAS PROOF AGAINST THE CHILD'S POSY

It wasn't very easy for this gallant young guardsman to sit expressionless on his horse while this impulsive little miss of seven vainly offered him her posy and then turned away, hurt; but a guardsman on duty at the Guild hall in London on occasions of ceremony must maintain discipline at all costs.
